THE HEYTENT PRODUCT PORTFOLIO

- » Professional series: coated fabrics for tents and permanent structures
- » Light series: laminated fabrics for light economical tents
- » Wide range of matching keder materials

Whether for professional or private needs, HEYtent materials always meet the highest standards. The HEYtent professional series offers highly resilient PVC-coated fabrics for lightweight structures such as pavilions, large tents, storage tents and much more.

Our products can be used for celebrations that require a hall roof or weather protection for all four seasons. Our textiles can be PVC coated on one or both sides and can offer translucent or block out variants. Our durability and the low weight make this fabric the ideal roof solution for many short- and long-term events. Our high-quality material is flame retardant according to various standards and heat and cold resistant.

Whether for celebrations, as a hall roof or as weather protection in all four seasons—PVC coated on one or both sides, translucent or blockout variants—durability and the low weight make this fabric the ideal roof solution for many short and long-term events. The high quality material is flame retardant according to various standards and heat and cold resistant.

YOU CAN BUILD AND RELY ON HEYTEX

We don't just say that, we also have it checked regularly. We have been using standards such as DIN EN ISO 9001 since 1998 to consistently improve our processes. Discover the many faces of fabric. www.heytex.com
